2023
Open Studios
Arches

Welcome

Hello and a very warm welcome to Arches Open Studios 2023.

Thank you for joining the Arches artists for this special weekend, we're excited for you to discover the creativity of this vibrant artistic community. Please feel free to explore, meet the artists, find out about their work, enjoy the artist-led activities and workshops, along with the live music and street food. At 'a space' arts we are proud to support this amazing community of talented artists and would like to extend a special thank you to all the artists for making the annual Arches Open Studios such an amazing annual event.

I hope you enjoy your time at the Arches Open Studios today and thank you for being part of this special weekend.

SoCo Music Project has been delivering engaging and inspirational music making activities since 2008. Their positive, creative opportunities help people discover something new, learn skills and nurture their creative potential. SoCo Music will kindly be providing music for the weekend, you can give them a visit at 40 Terminus Terrace, on the other side of the bridge, where they will be ready to welcome you!

The Corn Exchange Workshop artists Sarah Mander and Eddie Curtis will be on-site with their studios open over the course of the weekend - you can find them opposite Arch 04.

Sarah Mander is an artist and printmaker who specialises in intaglio print-making techniques; which include Etching, Collagraph, Drypoint and Carborundum printing.

Eddie Curtis is a relief print maker based in Southampton. Eddie has been working with printmaking since 2000 and uses relief printing techniques with a focus on linocut.
